- Wireless Network Security (WiFi, WiMAX, WiMedia and others)
- Sensor and Mobile Ad Hoc Network Security
- RFID security and privacy
- Wireless Intrusion Detection Systems, tolerance and recovery
- Public key infrastructures for wireless/mobile networks and pervasive/ubiquitous computing
- Privacy/Anonymity Preserving Design in wireless/mobile networks and pervasive/ubiquitous computing
- Security in hybrid (e.g., wireline/wireless) networks

PAPERS: Technical papers describing original unpublished research are solicited. Submissions must not be concurrently under review by a conference, journal or any other venue that has proceedings. Papers that have a student as the primary author or first co-author will be considered for a best student paper award. Accepted papers will be considered for a special issue of Springer International Journal of Information Security.

SUBMISSION INSTRUCTIONS: Authors should prepare a PostScript or PDF version of their full paper. Submissions must not exceed 10 pages in IEEE conference style, two-column format including figures and references. All submitted papers will be judged based on their quality through double-blind reviewing, where the identities of the authors are withheld from the reviewers. Authors' names must not appear in the paper or in the PostScript or PDF file. The title/abstract registration deadline is March 24, 2005, 11.50 PM PST, with full papers due by April 1, 2005, 11.50 PM PST.

PANELS: Panels that examine innovative, controversial, or otherwise provocative issues of interest are solicited. Potential panel organizers should submit proposals to the Panels Co-Chairs by March 18, 2005.

WORKSHOPS: The co-located workshops include: Workshop on Grid Security and Privacy (GSP), Workshop on Value of Security through Collaboration (SECOVAL), Computer Network Forensics Research Workshop (CNFR) and Integration of Security and Quality of Service (SecQoS). Submission details and deadlines are available from the conference webpages.

RESEARCH DEMOS: Informal proposals for research demos are solicited. Please submit proposals to the Research Demos Chair(s) by March 18, 2005. Travel grants, sponsored by NSF, are available to partially support travel expenses for demo teams from US-based institutions.
